4. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The application provides B. polymyxa and B. subtilis cells transformed with (a) alcohol dehydrogenase (ADHII) and pyruvate decarboxylase (PDC) genes from Zymomonas mobilis and (b) a heterologous DNA encoding a protein involved in transport of mono and oligosaccharides into the host cell.

The expression of these heterologous genes results in the production of enzymes which redirect the metabolism of the transformed hosts such that ethanol is produced as a primary fermentation product and thereby reduce accumulation of acidic metabolic products.
